1. Using same color from the main color in lighter tone. (Usually 20% lighter but, in this sample 10% looks better. Case by case.)
2. Sub Menu Font:
   -Same size font as the main nav but, not all capital.
   -If we want to use all capital, it should be one size down from the main nav font size.
3. Sub Menu Hover:
   Accent color font

Usually, we don't need a drop shadow effect for the dropdown box but, in this sample, we have a contact form in the header. So, it is better to have a drop shadow for the dropdown box.

1. Using same color as the main color with a thin line divider.
2. Sub Menu Font:
   -Same size font as the main nav but, not all capital.
   -If we want to use all capital, it should be one size down from the main nav font size.
3. Sub Menu Hover:
   Accent color font

Usually, we don't need a drop shadow effect for the dropdown box but, in this sample, we have a contact form in the header and we are using the same main color so,a drop shdow effect is a MUST-HAVE.
